HOW TO COMMENT ON A NAVY DOCUMENT

The Navy encourages members of the public to review and comment on documents related to the cleanup at HPNS. Federal law requires an official Public Comment Period for specific documents. In addition, the Navy may release additional documents for public comment to encourage public participation in the cleanup process and to gain feedback on the work planned.

Listed below are a few suggestions about how you can Get Involved with the Navy's cleanup at HPNS. In advance, thank you for your input!

1. Access and read the document(s) available for public comment

Go the Navy's website or visit one of the local Information Repositories (see Document Review Locations, above) to review the document(s) included in a current official Public Comment Period.

2. Clarify your concerns

Work plans and findings reports are technical in nature. If you have questions or need clarification, contact Navy team members and other experts to help you understand whether your concerns are addressed in the document.

3. Document your comments

Write down your comments. Be as specific as possible, noting the section and page number your comment applies to.

4. Be constructive

When possible, offer feedback that may be used to improve the program. Comments specific, measurable, attainable, relevant, and timely are best.

5. Be timely

To be sure that your comments are included in the official record, make sure you submit your comments before the official Public Comment Period closes .
